

START GETTING THE BEST OUT OF YOUR EQUIPMENT

In this era of digitalization, managing robots of various brands and models can be complicated and time-consuming, especially in buildings with multiple levels. A common management platform well integrated with your KONE elevators can streamline operations by providing visibility and control over a host of robots.

Monitor the real-time location of the robots, the performance of your sensors and any technical faults detected.

Enable your robots to operate elevators autonomously to move between floors when necessary.

Lower the investment cost and failure risk for robotic projects.

With a platform in-built with AI, NCS robotmanager seamlessly integrates with KONE elevators to help you monitor, operate and manage your host of robots to make building operations more efficient and convenient.

If you would like to boost your building's operational efficiency, contact us for a demo today.

